

PUBLICATION ETHICS

NZSAL follows standard practices for ethics in publication. The core areas are:

1. Publication and authorship

Submission implies all relevant sources that influenced the article have been appropriately used, cited, and listed as references; no inappropriate use of sources or plagiarism has occurred; the article is original; the article is not under review or published in another journal; the article is not substantially similar to an article under review or published in another journal; all authors have made significant contributions to the article and all those who have made significant contributions to the article are listed as authors.

2. Research and ethics

Submission implies all data reported in the article are real and authentic; no fraudulent data is used; all data is correctly reported; research involving human subjects has received ethical approval from relevant institutional authorities and informed consent from participants.

3. Editorship and peer review

The editor has the authority to make the final decision in considering articles for publication; decisions to accept articles deemed to be within the aims and scope of the journal will be based on review; confidentiality of reviewers and authors will be respected; reviewing will be double-blind; if substantial errors are detected a correction or retraction will be printed; the editor and editorial board will monitor ethics. Agreeing to review implies reviewers are qualified to review; will be fair and impartial; will not use abusive language; do not have conflicts of interest or they will recuse themselves.
